

Signal Safety in this New Era

Solve an immediate need as work and life require distance.

COVID-19 is a stress test for the economy, but for your workers or customers the constant consideration of social distancing can distract them from their task at hand.

Banner Engineering offers low-cost, highly effective solutions:

- Clarity and certainty for a worker or customer looking to enter a space
- Manual oversight reduced/eliminated for immediate return on investment
- Monitor traffic in an area, notify if too many people enter an area
- Indication options: change color fully or visually count down to activity: good to enter, getting close to full, full— please wait
- Optional analytics and report generation
- No wiring required— plug and play installation
